Nächtliche Nachbarn- was bringen dialogorientierte Maßnahmen?

DONNERSTAG 09.11.2017 16:00-17:00

Abstract Thierry Charlois

More and more European cities are experiencing cross-cutting policies involving all concerned stakeholders in order to develop, promote and regulate nightlife.

This approach is challenged by a range of obstacles such as the divergences of interests between the stakeholders; the lack of experience in managing deliberative and/or participative policies; the gap between long-time processes and urgent needs, etc.

The presentation will provide an overview of key issues municipalities and their partners should take into account in order to improve mediation related to nightlife.
